

AMERICANA / FOLK ARTIST

THOMAS HINDS

Solo Acoustic Artist & Poetic Troubadour

ABOUT

A hard-touring troubadour surviving on raw talent and a heartfelt folk-rock repertoire, Thomas Hinds performs full-time across the country with half a million miles under his belt over the last six years.

A singer/songwriter out of northern Georgia, Thomas has been building a reputation for lyrical depth and an original voice. His 2023 album Where Do We Go From Here, recorded at Alabama's legendary FAME Studios, reached #86 on the Americana Album charts.

His highly anticipated follow-up, Hotel Room Songs, drops in 2026 featuring thirteen tracks recorded at FAME Studios and West End Sound in Atlanta. First single coming late January.

PRESS

"Thomas Hinds creates a one-of-a-kind amalgamation of sounds, with organ lines that are somehow both mellow and wailing alongside flowing streams of steel string slides and fingerpicked guitars."

— Little Star PR

"Sounds like a cross between the ethereal crooning of Jeff Buckley and the down-to-earth angst of early Wilco."

— Music Press
